ONLINE

The 'Digital Revolution' is leading to significant changes - Online CPD is efficient & cost effective with better time management. Enhance your skills at your own time and comfort. - We offer flexible & effective sessions where the focus is to provide people working within accounting, financial, law and advisory firms with a comprehensive guide to developing skills necessary to excel in the modern professional service environment.

MARKETPLACE

This area is currently dominated by professional bodies where the students have to jump from one professional body to another to study their area of expertise. We offer our students an all-in-one site which covers most of the inter-related topics on one platform. Our core services to students for last 16 years in providing them with their legal documents creates a trust factor for them to consume our education, training & future referral for technical support from our speakers.

CPD ONLINE SESSION

Our short affordable one-hour webinars and CPD on demand are designed so that they are eligible for Tax Agent board requirements for structured CPD skill development which is a mandatory requirement for many professional bodies. We ensure the quality of content is directly relevant & valuable to you who is cold face with your clients. Each session is approved by a panel of experts prior to being offered for presentation. There are no restrictions on how many sessions you attend, it will all depend on your need for greater level of understanding to the each topic being offered. Most of our sessions are for 1 hour and equivalent to 1 CPD point.
